

Labour Market Information (LMI) for Lincolnshire

Understanding the local job market can help you make well-informed decisions about your career. Here are some key insights into the labour market in Lincolnshire:

- Growing Sectors: Agriculture, food production, health and social care, and logistics are key areas of growth.
- Agriculture and Food Production: Lincolnshire is a major hub for farming and food processing, offering a wide range of roles.
- Health and Social Care: Demand for carers, nurses, and social workers remains strong.
- Construction: Infrastructure projects and residential developments create opportunities for skilled tradespeople.
- Logistics and Distribution: Excellent transport links support careers in driving, warehousing, and supply chains.

Current Job Trends

- Healthcare Roles: A consistent need for nurses, carers, and support workers.
- Skilled Trades: High demand for electricians, plumbers, and builders.
- Digital Skills: Increasing opportunities in IT and digital marketing.